Rolando's Rights

He knows his rights...

Do you know yours?

Rolando Returns for His Money

Rolando goes back to his old job. They owe him money.

The company didn't pay him for his last two weeks of work.

The company refuses to pay him.

What Happened?

Rolando gets back to his new job. He is late. The supervisor, Marco, is not happy.

Rolando's coworker, Janus, asks him what's going on. Another coworker hears them talking.

some business to take care of = something important to do ripped off = someone took your money

The Lion Roars

Rolando tells his wife, Silvia, that his old company is not going to pay him.

Rolando has a part-time evening job a few days a week. Before he leaves, he speaks with his son, Lionel.

Rolando tells Silvia he will find a solution. He will get the money his old company owes him.

At the Parking Garage

Rolando's part-time job is at a parking garage. He has a daydream in a customer's car.

In Rolando's daydream, he gets a big check.

There's a knock on the car window. It brings Rolando back to reality. It was only a daydream...

daydream = dreaming with your eyes open back to reality = return to the real world

Taking Action

Back at the construction job... Rolando and Janus see a sign about calling 311.

Another worker, Cecilia, has a story too. She didn't get "paid sick leave" from their company.

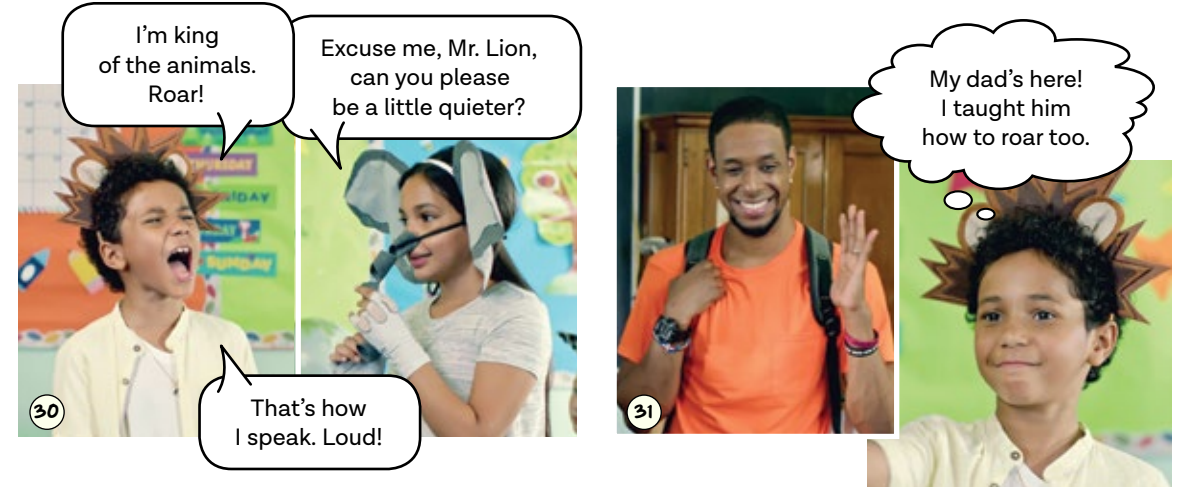

They decide to call 311 to get help.

anonymously = not giving your name

Let Me Hear Your Voices!

Rolando picks up Lionel at school. The class is practicing a play.

The teacher welcomes Rolando.

Lionel, the lion, encourages all the animals to speak up.

Learning about DCA (the Department of Consumer Affairs)

311 said we can get help from the DCA. They have a special office for worker rights.

36

I called 311 too. They told me we can file a complaint online, or do it on the phone.

They said we can go to the DCA office too, and we don't need an appointment.

Maybe going there is a good idea. We can speak to somebody face-to-face.

37

Next Wednesday, the construction site will be closed for inspection.

Let's go then.

The workers learn about other rights too.

I have another problem. My old company ripped me off. They didn't pay me for the last two weeks I worked.

42

That is called "wage theft." The company is required by law to pay you for every hour that you work.

I have another question. My wife wears a hijab. She is starting a new job. Is that a problem?

No, it is not. Workers have the right to wear their religious clothing.

Meeting at the DCA Office

They go to DCA. They learn about their rights.

38

In New York City, workers in companies with five or more employees have the right to paid sick leave.

You can start using your sick leave after four months.

And if someone in your family is sick, you can use your sick leave. You can stay at home and take care of them, and still get paid.

Our company didn't give us paid sick leave.

40

We'll help you get it. The company owes you that money.

We don't have a union contract. Are we protected? We don't want to lose our jobs.

The company is not allowed to fire you for getting help from DCA. It is against the law.

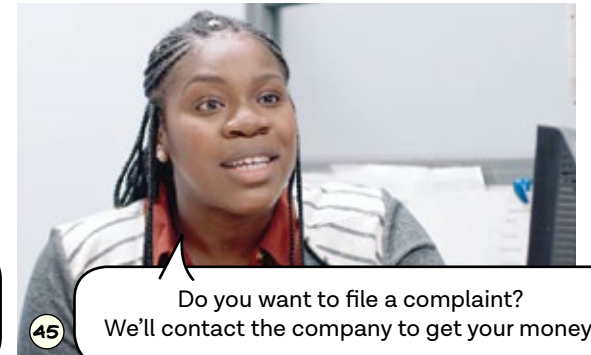

She gives them a list of worker rights. But what's the next step?

44

The Workers' Bill of Rights. This is good. This is what I need.

45

Do you want to file a complaint? We'll contact the company to get your money.

DCA is ready to help.

46

We should file a complaint!

47

Hmm... Maybe Cecilia's right...

48

Hmm... I need to think about this...

49

If you want to think it over and decide, that's fine. When you are ready, we are here to help.

file a complaint = make an official report about a problem to get a solution

Sharing the News

Rolando gives Silvia information about paid sick leave.

50

51

Paid sick leave is for home health aides too.

Also nannies, housecleaners... all domestic workers. The rules are a little different. Let's see what this says.

On the job, the workers share the news about paid sick leave with other coworkers.

52

You sound sick. You should be at home resting. It's your right.

cough
cough

53

I can't afford it.

With paid sick leave, you can stay home and still get paid.

You mean if someone in my family is sick, paid sick leave covers that too?

54

Tell him, Cecilia...

That's right.

55

Here... Read this!

Thanks!

56

It's called "Paid Sick Leave."

57

It's our right!

Let's Practice It

Rolando and Janus practice talking about wage theft.

58

So what did you decide?

I'm going to show the documents we got from DCA to my old foreman.

What are you going to say to him?

Let's practice it.

59

...You be the boss, and I'll play myself, Rolando.

Okay.

It's like a play. Rolando practices his lines with Janus.

60

What do you want, Rolando?

I'm a very busy man.

It's my money. I worked for it. You can't take it.

61

You were sick. I needed a worker.

I had the flu. You can't fire me for that.

I have the right to paid sick leave. And I have the right to all of the money that I earned before I was sick too.

Their supervisor appears and overhears them.

62

Rolando... Marco is here.

63

Rolando Knows His Rights

Rolando returns to his old job. He shows the foreman the Workers' Bill of Rights.

José... I have the right to receive all of the money that I worked for.

64

I'll talk to the boss. I can't guarantee anything... I'll give you a call.

65

Everyone Knows Their Rights

The workers tell the supervisor that they know about paid sick leave.

Marco... We want to tell you that we know about paid sick leave.

66

That's right. We just want to take care of ourselves.

And our families too.

The owner of this company doesn't care.

67

Maybe he would care if he knows that we can file complaints with DCA.

68

Then he would have to pay us. Plus fines... penalties.

69

And we know that he is not allowed to fire us. We are protected by the law.

That's right, Marco. We know our rights!

These workers know their rights!

70

They File Complaints

A couple of weeks later, the workers decide to file complaints with DCA.

Rolando... We've decided that we are going to file complaints with DCA.

71

I haven't heard anything from my old company. I filed a complaint already!

72

Lionel Can't Roar

Lionel is sick. He can't go to school.

I can't roar...

73

Don't worry, Lionel. You'll get your voice back.

74

Silvia will stay home to take care of Lionel. She won't lose her pay.

I'm going to stay home with Lionel. I spoke with my company and they said it's fine. I have worked there long enough. It's my right.

75

Next time, it will be my turn... After I've been with the company longer and we win our fight.

Victory!

Marco makes an important announcement.

Rolando roars...

What You Can Do To Protect Your Rights at Work

DCA Representative

If you work in NYC more than 80 hours a year, you can earn up to 40 hours of sick leave each year to care for yourself, your child, or family members.

Cecilia

For information or to file a complaint with DCA: Call 311. If you are outside NYC, call 212-NEW-YORK. On the web, visit nyc.gov/PaidSickLeave or email PaidSickLeave@dca.nyc.gov

Janus

It is against the law for an employer to retaliate against you for requesting or using sick leave.

Marco

Employers must give the Notice of Employee Rights created by DCA to new employees. Notices are available in 26 languages at nyc.gov/PaidSickLeave

Silvia

If you are a paid care worker in NYC, DCA has an office that supports your rights. It is called the Paid Care Division. The Paid Care Division is dedicated to defending the rights of paid care workers, improving the quality of paid care jobs, and strengthening the paid care system. Learn more at www.nyc.gov/dca

Omar

You have the right to a workplace free of discrimination. For information or to file a complaint, contact the NYC Commission on Human Rights. Call 311 or 718-722-3131 or visit nyc.gov/humanrights

Rolando

Wage theft is illegal. You have the right to unpaid wages. You can get help and recover your unpaid wages. DCA and the New York State Department of Labor can help. Call 311 for help.
